Games For Threesomes

This season's new game successes are designed to rescue hostesses from worry over odd numbers of guests. One new game that is a development of backgammon can be played by two, three or four with equal excitement.

Another new parlor hit doesn't even require a bridge table and is fun for two, three or any other number of players. Players get individual trays of numbered blocks; the object of the game is to make a row of the same numbers. Five zeros score highest and a row of fives is next.

His Coughing Spell Pays $500 Dividend

Memphis, Tenn. — (AP) — 10-year-old Paul B. Nellum, Jr., has coughed up "about $500" for his parents.

The boy swallowed a tooth recently. Doctors here were unable to fish it out so Paul and his father hopped a Philadelphia-bound plane for bronchoscopic treatment there.

As the youth was being prepared for the operation, a coughing spell seized him—and the tooth came up.

The operation, which would have cost about $500, was cancelled.

Fond du Lac Man Wounded In Quarrel

Fond du Lac, Wis. — (UP) — Vernon J. Everling, 35-year-old WPA worker, lay in serious condition at a hospital here today with an abdominal wound which police said they were informed he incurred from his own gun in the hands of his brother-in-law during a quarrel resulting from Everling's demand for 50 cents to buy beer.

The brother-in-law, Harold Funk, a 26-year-old bakery employe, was held meanwhile on an open charge pending anticipated arraignment in municipal court tomorrow. Dist. Atty. George M. St. Peter said that a formal charge against Funk would be issued upon his appearance in court.

St. Peter said he was told that Everling and Funk fought with their fists after Funk told Everling that he didn't have 50 cents to give him for beer while they were visiting a neighbor Raymond Thompson. The combatants supposedly made up after Thompson intervened in their fight.

Funk went to Everling's home, where he also lived, and returned soon with Everling's .32 caliber revolver. He apologized for the quarrel and then, according to accounts told Fond du Lac county authorities, pulled the gun from his pocket and shot Everling from a distance of about eight feet.

Thompson told authorities that he knocked the gun from Funk's hand and held him until police arrived. Thompson, his wife, and Mrs. Everling witnessed the shooting, officers said.

Collision Of Ferry Boats Fatal To 24

St. Johns, Newfoundland. — (UP) — Launches and fishing boats searching the icy waters of Bell Island straits at noon today had recovered the bodies of only three of 24 persons who perished when two small ferry-boats collided in a snow flurry last night.

Only six persons of the 30 aboard the two boats survived, four of them clinging to an oil cask and parts of the wheel-house of the boat which sank.

Captain Archie Mitchell of the 14-ton Golden Dawn said that he and his engineer, Boss Rose, were the only persons aboard when the W. Garland rammed his vessel amidships, as both vessels were steaming at about 9 knots. The ship drifted apart and the W. Garland sank at once.

Watchmen and others on the Bell Island pier only a quarter of a mile distant heard the screams of the victims struggling in the water, but when boats put out to the scene, only the four survivors and three bodies were picked up. The two aboard the still floating Golden Dawn were also picked up, but they said they could see no one in the water after the collision.

HE GETS ALONG SWIMMINGLY—Testing Britain's new Salvus diving equipment for working at a depth of 30 feet for almost an hour, a diver crawls along in a swimming pool. The apparatus is for use in entering flooded or smoked-out parts of a ship. Valves attached to a weighted belt help regulate the air released in bag. Diver's mates watch—just in case.

WELCOME WARM DESPITE COLD—Their troubles over, Elise Riddervold, 25, of Oslo, Norway, and Hildur Grytness (right), 28, from Trondheim, Norway, greet New York. They came aboard the Mathilda Thorden, Finnish vessel that dodged mine fields and was halted by Germans and by Britons.

Army Plane Believed Down In Iowa Lake

Spirit Lake, Iowa. — (AP) — A blizzard of "mid-February" intensity today turned back searchers who hoped to find traces of an airplane believed to have crashed and disappeared in the storm-tossed waters of Spirit Lake last night.

An army plane scheduled to fly over this vicinity in a mission, fell into two and three-foot drifts and visibility was reduced to less than 100 feet.

Coroner B. W. Jones and Sheriff J. L. McQuirk, who made a complete circuit of lakeshore cottages last night, said all residents on the shore told the same story:

About 6:30 p. m. they heard an airplane circling close to the ground above their homes. The roar of the motor was loud. Suddenly it stopped and in a few seconds a huge "splash" was heard. Then silence.

The army plane, an route from Minneapolis, Minn., to Fort Crook, Neb., is many hours overdue there and no trace of it has been found, army headquarters said.

Heavy rain and high wind had reduced visibility over the lake when the reported crash was heard.

Major Ray Miller of the 109th aero squadron at St. Paul said the missing plane was piloted by Lieut. Robert M. Frange and that Lieut. G. Smith and Private Cerrato were riding with him.

Scott field officers at Belleville, Ill., said the officials were on a cross country tour and had been expected to return to their base in a day or two.

Ambassador to Great Britain Joseph P. Kennedy of Boston (right) knew the answers—and gave them—all but the one newsmen most wanted to know, in his interview at Washington. There'd been hints that Kennedy, who made a political speech for F.D.R. immediately upon his recent return from London, might resign from this major diplomatic post.

Glenn W. Lycan, county agricultural agent, said that while he hadn't made any investigations, he thought that the rain and wind probably hadn't harmed any farm products. The soil needed the rain, he added.

Caught in a particularly hard blow, a chimney top at the North Side Tire company, 1425 N. Thirteenth street, was toppled over and dangled in the wind until it was removed later in the afternoon.

Tree branches lined almost all of the city streets, and winter's usual job of removing foliage from utility branches was taken over by the obiding wind, which stripped most of the trees.

According to aviation engineers, the use of landplanes in transoceanic service would permit the keeping of schedules to a much larger degree than is now possible with flying boats.
