Subject: Delay of the Spring 2025 Forecast Zones Implementation
Date to March 19, 2025

The National Weather Service (NWS) is delaying all zone change implementations originally scheduled for March 18, 2025. The delay is due to a planned Critical Weather Day (CWD) Declaration, prompting a zone change implementation date in a more favorable weather window of opportunity.

The implementation date is now scheduled for Wednesday, March 19, 2025. If March 19, 2025 is also declared a CWD, another Public Information Statement (PNS) will be issued specifying the alternate date.
