Subject: Discontinuation of Space Weather Advisory Bulletin: Effective
October 5, 2012

Effective Friday, October 5, 2012, at 9:00 AM Mountain Daylight Time
(MDT), 1500 Coordinated Universal Time (UTC), the NWS Space Weather
Prediction Center (SWPC) in Boulder, Colorado, will discontinue the Space Weather Advisory Bulletin.

Developed many years ago, the Space Weather Advisory Bulletin was designed to provide space weather information at a level appropriate for a general audience. Recently, however, SWPC added equivalent general audience text to its alert, warning, and watch products, tailored specifically for each category and type of space weather event. For this reason, the advisory bulletin is no longer needed.

SWPC alerts, warnings, and watches are online at:

<http://www.swpc.noaa.gov/alerts/index.html>
