Subject: Transition from Experimental to Operational Status of National Fire Weather Webpage: Effective April 23, 2013

Effective Tuesday, April 23, 2013, the National Fire Weather webpage will transition to operational status.

This product is online at: <https://www.weather.gov/fire>.

This product provides land management agencies and other users with local, state and national fire weather products. This product has been available experimentally since October 2009. Feedback during the experimental test period was positive.
